Coming into bell lap of the Group B SportVelo Miss n Out, Jeff Williams attacked with Shin Umeda jumping on his wheel and Bill Nicely waved good-bye accepting third. Williams held off Umeda for the win.

Twenty-three riders made the Group B Concept Cyclery Points Race an attack fest with Jeff Williams, Keith Jordan and Dylan McReynolds gaining a lap. John Licatesi and John Cheetham escaped as the three leaders caught the field and Licatesi and Cheetham held on for critical 1st and 2nd place points that gave them 4th and 5th overall. Williams gain one final point on the last sprint edging out Jordan by one point for the win

In the final of the Montano Velo Keirin, Brian Peterson attacked on bell with Steve Pelaez, Kieran Cox and Rob Evans getting set up behind. On the line with Evans getting the ride of his life behind Cox, Cox won and Evans surprising Peterson and Pelaez for second. Second, third and fourth decided by less than half a wheel.

The Concept Cyclery Points race was close going into the last sprint with Pelaez in the lead with 10 points and Hernandez in second with 9 points. After the 3rd of 4 points sprint, Hernandez attached getting a sizeable gap. Wining the final sprint would give Hernandez the win. On the last sprint Briggs went over the top of Palaez and caught Hernandez giving Briggs second and insuring Palaez got the win. What a great finish to a fun afternoon.
